Attorney General Declines to Talk. The attorney general, when seen to-night, declined to discuss the action of the committee. His friends inti-mated that the charges were old and that a certain phase of them was un-der investigation. They declined to indicate just what this phase was.

Delegate Startles Committee. Delegate Wickersham startled the committee when in executive session he produced a copy of an affidavit relating to an alleged criminal act committed by Capt. D. H. Jarvis of the Alaska syndicate and Jehn H. Bullock of the John J. Statute of Limitations Has Expired. "I read the last letter," continued Delegate Wickersham, "to show that statute of limitations has run against the prosecution of these men who com-mitted perjury and defrauded the gov-ernment. They submitted false amerment. They submitted fais? affidavits to the government and committed fraud in April and May, 1906, and the statute of limitation did not expire until May, 1911. I sent all the evidence to the attorney general a year before and he falled and refused to prosecute these people for robbing the treasury, and he permitted the statute of limitations to run in their favor.

Shielded by Attorney General. "I want the committee to have all the facts, so that it may know whether the attorney general has deliberately shielded these people from prosecution for crime or not. It is fair to him and fair to me. I say that he has."

exclude the United States from Great-Britain's possible enemies and the life of the alligate has been extended near-ly six years by the new version of the treaty which Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of foreign affairs, and Count Kalb, the Japanese ambassador at London, signed yesterday. The original agreement, which was signed August 12, 1905, included eight arti-cles and a preamble. The only practi-cal difference between that and the new version is embodied in article 4, which reads: which reads:

"Should either high contracting party conclude a treaty of general arbitration with a third power, it is agreed that nothing in this agreement shall entail upon such contracting party an obligation to go to war with the power with whom such treaty of arbitration is in force."
